

Meet The Education Team

Education is a foundation of society, and from nurseries and schools through to colleges, universities and adult learning establishments, Band Hatton Button are proud to have strong experience and a varied client base within the sector and region.

Our team is experienced in dealing with the issues upon which our education-based clients require advice, whether this be specifically related to education law, or drawing on the advice we provide on the day-to-day issues which affect all organisations, including those referred to above. We are confident that we will be able to provide sound legal advice that not only comes with years of experience in this sector, but also with a commercial edge, tailored to your situation.
